THE DOG THAT WAS SHOT IN THE LEGS

This dog came in not able to walk. After running x-rays we found that he had been shot in his two legs. Therefore we casted his legs and he healed up perfectly.

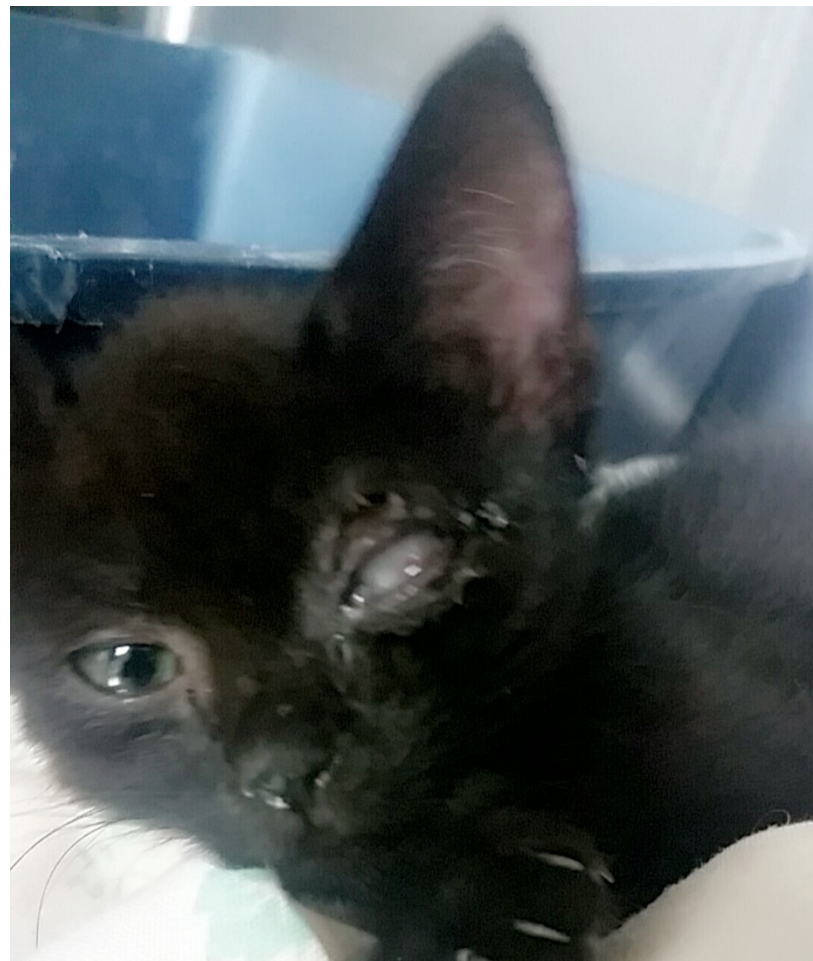

CANCER

This is what a dog with cancer looks like on x-ray

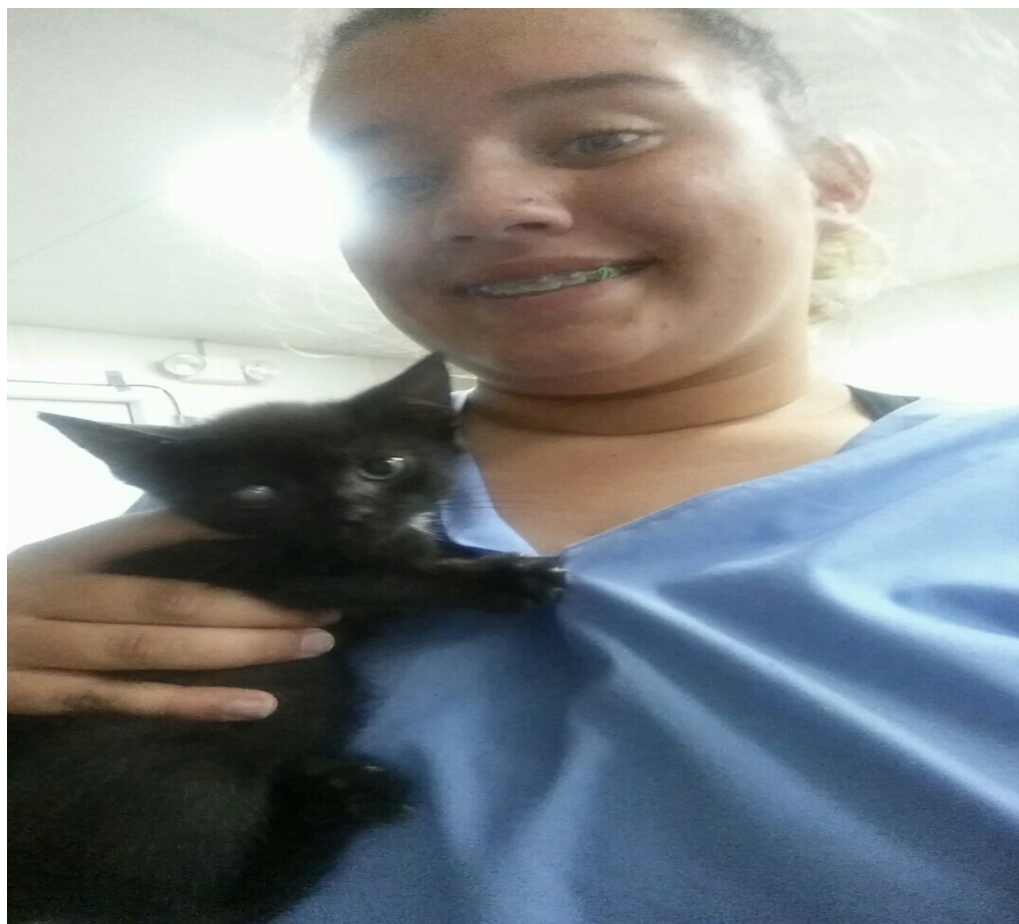

EYE SURGERY

Sleepy panda. She had too much skin under her eye because the extra skin was droopy. The day after we removed the extra skin.

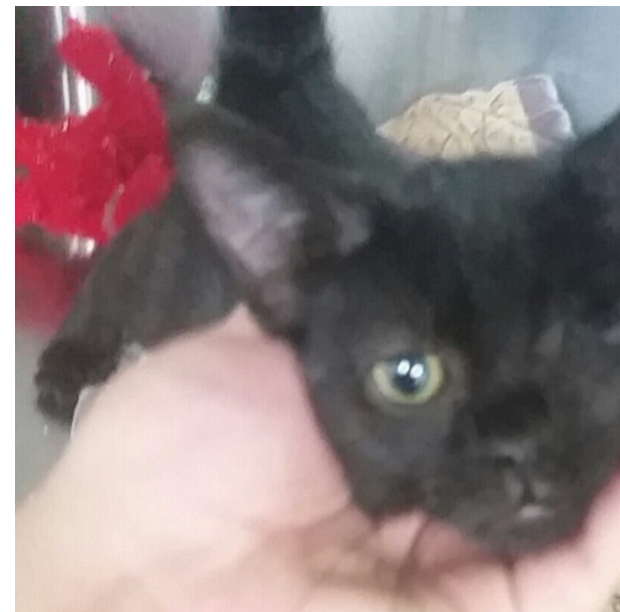

THE KITTEN TRANSFORMATION

This kitten was brought in as a stray and had a nasty, matted, bulging growth on its eye. We knew it needed surgery but at the time it was too little to undergo surgery. We started with clomox drops to treat the eye.

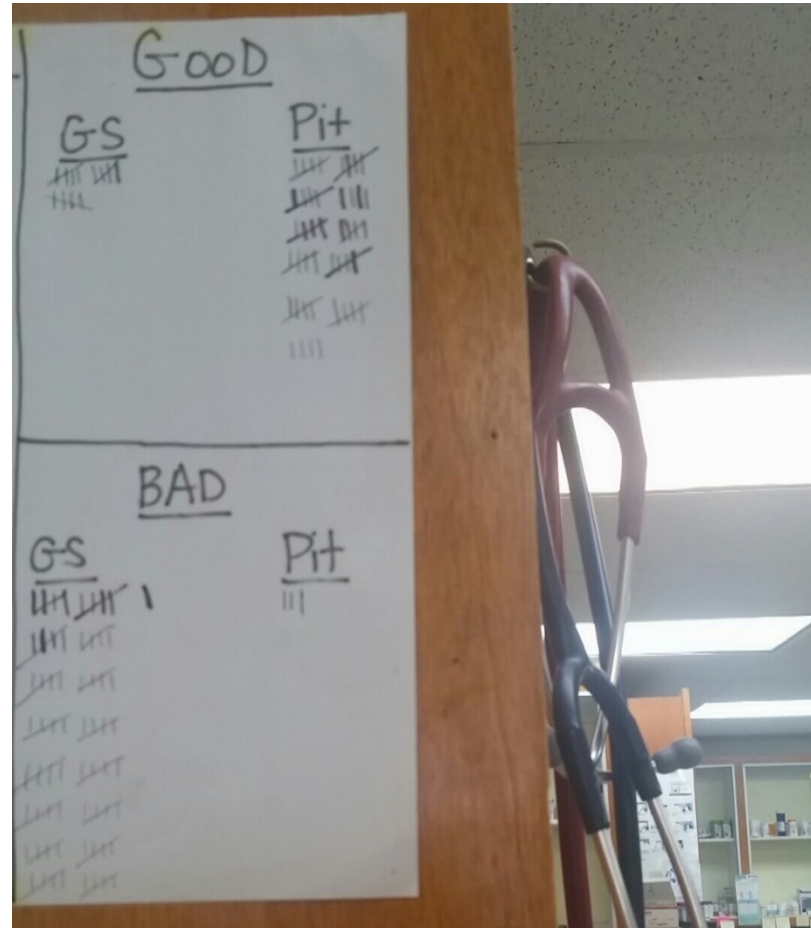

THE KITTEN TRANSFORMATION

About three weeks later her was much and she was old e
to have the surgery. There th kitten and I are about to go the eye removal surgery.

THE KITTEN TRANSFORMATION

Her surgery was a success!
a very strong kitten and di well. And she is now a very loving, happy, healthy kittle
looking for a forever home

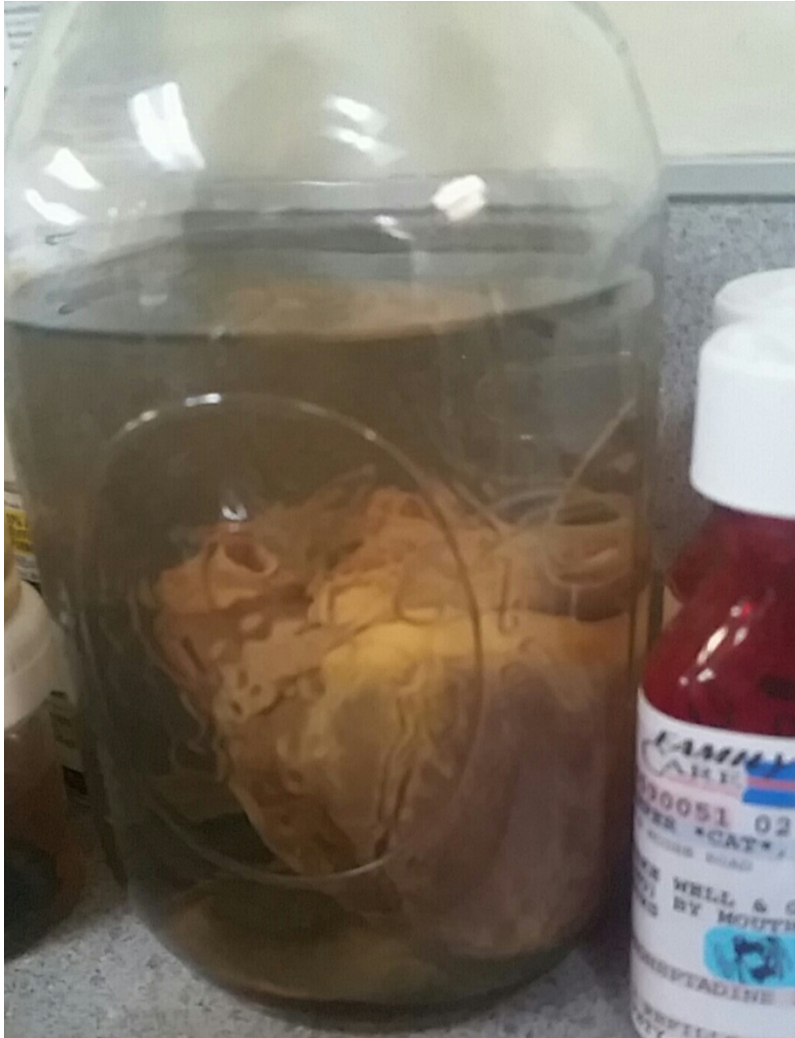

TALLY THEM UP

We decided to test and see if a pit bull dog was better behaved - a pit bull or a german shepherd . We took a tally of dogs that came to the office and the end result was that pit bulls were much better behaved than german shepherds.

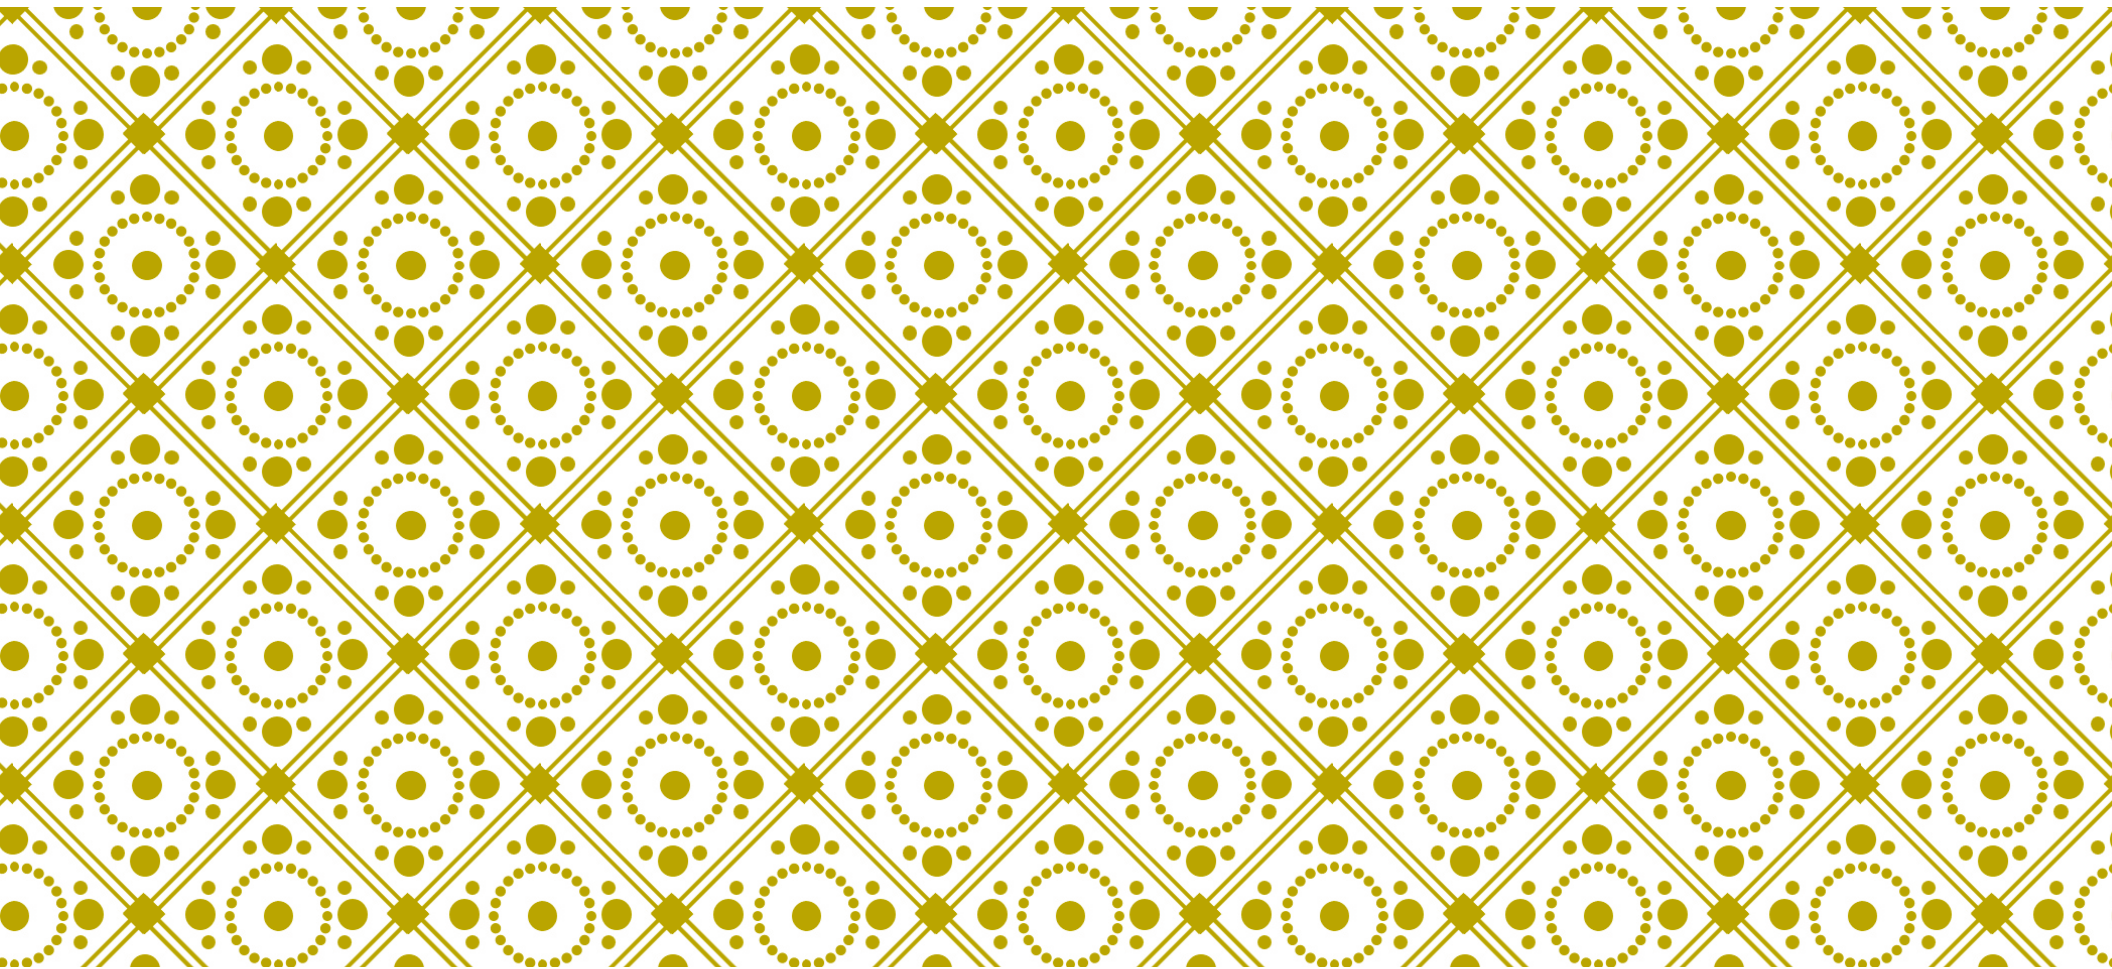

EWE ABSENCE

This is blood and abscess f drained off of a dogs leg.
Abscesses smell very bad!

HEART

This is a preserved heart. I thought it was cool and interesting.
