STAR STUDENT FOR Culinary Arts

Sy'mone Fewell is the Star Student for the Culinary Arts Management I program. Sy'mone is being honored because she demonstrates the skills and attributes that employer's value.

Sy'mone Fewell is an exceptional student. I had the pleasure of teaching Sy'mone in my Level I program and now in my Level II. I am more than happy to. She is very diligence, intelligence and aptitude impresses me. Not only is Sy'mone a well-behaved student but she takes pride in all her assignments ensuring that everything is done to standard and on time, which is a result of her having the achieving average of (89.85%.) She always shows interest and participates in group/class activities. On lab days she always ensures that her group's duties and responsibilities are done and done correctly. Sy'mone always displays initiative on her behalf ensuring that the kitchen always looks the same as it did when we enter.

Sy'mone displays good communication skills that are essential in the kitchen and classroom. Her interpersonal skills are stronger than others which will result in her becoming more successful and benefit her both professionally and personally. She always takes advantage of extra time to set his future goals. She is very resourceful and works without always being told what to do.

She demonstrates all the abilities to take initiative and enterprise for others to follow. When call upon to do something Sy'mone achieves superior results with minimum guidance; this is why I am so delighted to have her in my class. I can sincerely say that knowing and teaching Sy'mone is a pleasure. As a teacher, it is rewarding to teach students like Sy'mone, who doesn't only work to excel but challenges the status quo and stand-up for what she believes. She is definitely someone that I'm happy to see in my Culinary Arts Management II program as well as the food industry.
